The image displays a Klavarskribo musical score for NLB 584, arranged in a vertical format. The notation consists of a series of horizontal staves, each with a vertical line through its center. Notes are represented by small circles (half notes) and dots (quarter notes) placed on or between the horizontal lines. Some notes have horizontal stems. A vertical dashed line runs through the middle of the score, indicating a measure boundary. The score is divided into two systems by a horizontal dashed line. The first system contains the first five staves, and the second system contains the remaining five staves. The notation is minimalist, focusing on pitch and rhythm through the placement of notes on the staves.
