The image displays two vertical musical staves, each containing 12 lines. The left staff begins with a diamond-shaped clef symbol in the top right corner. Both staves feature a series of notes, including quarter notes, eighth notes, and rests, arranged in a vertical sequence. A vertical dashed line is present in both staves, serving as a reference point. The right staff includes a horizontal dashed line extending from the right edge. At the bottom of the right staff, there are several 'v' symbols and a thick horizontal line.
