The image displays two vertical musical staves for Klavarskribo notation. Each staff consists of 12 horizontal lines. The left staff features a diamond-shaped symbol at the top right. The right staff features a 'v' symbol at the top right. Both staves contain musical notation with notes, stems, and various symbols (dots, commas) indicating pitch and rhythm. A vertical dashed line is present in each staff, serving as a reference point. The notation is arranged in a way that suggests a specific sequence of notes and rests across the staves.
